Are you someone in need of assistance? _____

If so, tell us about your project: _____

If you are a group interested in volunteering, when are you wanting to come? _____

What Do We Do?

Groups have the opportunity to live, work, eat and play together all while serving God through helping those in need.

Volunteers repair or renovate homes, yards and community buildings. All kinds of building repair, yard work, painting and fencing are likely jobs.

During the 2007 season alone, CCSP hosted 5 groups, 33 volunteers and completed 11 projects. Work sites included Monte Vista, Alamosa, Antonito, Sanford, Capulin, Ft. Garland and La Jara.

CCSP History

For the past three years, members of the Alamosa Christian Reformed Church (ACRC) have been successfully administrating this worthy work throughout the San Luis Valley.

The ACRC took over this ministry from SLV Christian Community Services who faithfully served the San Luis Valley for over 20 years. CCSP is now a board-governed, non-profit organization.

CCSP is sponsored and supported by both the ACRC congregation and the San Luis Valley business community. Individuals in the community and beyond also help sponsor this program.
